

Empowering Sustainable Innovation in the European Raw Materials Sector

PROMETIA is an international non-profit association that promotes innovation and sustainability in the fields of mineral processing, extractive metallurgy and recycling for metals and materials production.

The association's mission is to facilitate access to critical and strategic raw materials for European industry and citizens.

One network, 40+ members and a shared vision for responsible raw materials supply in Europe.

Optimising metals and materials production by

- Driving innovation in the raw materials sector.
- Enhancing the European R&D network of process engineers & researchers.
- Facilitating collaboration & transfer to the industry.
- Promoting responsible resource management.
- Training the next generation in the sector.

Did you know about the PROMETIA TECH TOUR? This annual event is aimed at opening the doors to various facilities in the fields of extractive metallurgy and materials recycling to PhD students, postdocs, young engineers or researchers in the early stages of their careers.
